

Result chair

Friso Kramer & Wim Rietveld, 1958

Description

Result chair by Friso Kramer & Wim Rietveld for HAY.

Designed by Friso Kramer and Wim Rietveld during their time working at Ahrend in 1950s, the Result chair and Pyramid collection of tables and benches has been relaunched by HAY together with Ahrend.

Regarded as a triumph in its innovative use of cut-out sheet steel construction in the '50s, the Result chair makes sparing use of materials to achieve lightness, adaptability and strength. This timeless range continues to remain relevant with its exceptional construction and design.

This iconic mid-century design has a particularly unique relationship with the Dutch residents as it was originally produced for schools in the Netherlands during the 1960s and 1970s.

Lightweight, sturdy and functional, Result is effortlessly adaptable to public and private spaces.

Made of oak veneer with a steel base, available in a range of finishes.

Black steel base is available in the following seat finishes: clear lacquer, matt lacquer, smoked oiled and black stained oak veneer.

Beige steel base is available in the following seat finishes: clear lacquer, matt lacquer, smoked oiled and beige stained oak veneer.
