

Holocene No. 2 lamp

David Chipperfield,

Description

Holocene No. 2 oil lamp by David Chipperfield for Wastberg.

In collaboration with some of the most influential contemporary designers, Swedish lighting company Wastberg has come up with the Holocene collection. Named after the geological period, the Holocene series is a range of non-electrical lighting inspired by fire and man's relationship with it.

Designed by David Chipperfield, The Holocene No. 2 oil lamp is a sleek and modern oil lamp. The brass oil lamp features two movable plates which have a sanded brass exterior and polished interior. The inner polished brass surface reflects the soft glow of the flame, adding warmth to the given space.

Available in brass.
