

Here Comes The Sun S, Black

Bertrand Balas, 1969

Description

Here Comes The Sun pendant lamp, small - Black/Copper by Bertrand Balas for DCW éditions.

When it was first released in 1970, Bertrand Balas wanted to call it Here Comes the Sun because of the Beatles song, but he never did as he thought that the Beatles would not let him use the name. This classic ceiling lamp is still collected by many French lighting addicts.

At first sight, this round lamp looks like many other round lamps. But the Here Comes the Sun by Bertand Balas becomes magical when the light is turned on.

Available in small size and Black satin exterior with copper interior shade.

Made from aluminium.
