

Jiro Swivel chair

John Tree, 2020

Description

Jiro Swivel chair by John Tree for Resident.

The Jiro Swivel Chair is the latest offering from Resident which challenges conventional workplace seating. Designed by London-based product designer, John Tree, the pared-back design offers maximum comfort while utilising minimal elements.

Eighteen months in the making the elegantly minimal chair is stripped back to its essential, ergonomic form. Its low backrest flexes to offer responsive support to the sitter, its aligned components offering great manoeuvrability, making the chair ideal for working environments at home or in the office.

Available in oak plywood finished in natural lacquer or black stain with a four-star die-cast base in black or white. The ample seat is also available with an upholstered cushion in a complementary range of fabrics and leathers. Please refer to the pdf in the downloads section for further information.
