

Futura mobile

Ole Flensted, 1970

Description

Futura mobile by Ole Flensted for Flensted Mobile.

The first mobile designed by Ole Flensted in 1970. The six bars create a dynamic tension between light and heavy counterpoints.

Mobiles are a traditional craft in Denmark, but the modern mobile was created in 1954 by Christian Flensted and his wife Grethe. Their first design, the Stork mobile, was a great success, and now flies all over the world.

Christian Flensted became known as the "Uromager", a name impossible to translate into English, which means a "maker of things mischievous and always on the move".

Today, their son Ole and his wife Aase continue the tradition, with ideas for new and original mobiles issuing regularly from their "Department of Space Research".

Flensted Mobiles are created so that the elements are in constant motion while the entire mobile maintains a harmonic balance. Each mobile is carefully assembled, and balanced by skilful hands.

They are packed so that they are ready to hang.
