

.03 chair

Maarten Van Severen, 1998

Description

.03 chair by Maarten Van Severen for Vitra.

The clean and simple lines of the .03 are instantly appealing, encapsulating the 'less is more' design approach. At the same time, the chair is extremely comfortable - perhaps unexpectedly so, given its minimal structure.

The linear seat shell is made of a resilient polyurethane integral-skin foam which gently adapts to the body when in use. The upper part of the backrest has integrated leaf springs which allow it to flex when the sitter leans backwards, enhancing the sense of comfort.

Shell with upholstered effect is available in basic dark or poppy red.

Non-stacking base has back legs in tubular steel and front legs in aluminium profile, powder-coated in black or silver or chrome-plated.

Available with a choice of hard glides for carpet, or felt glides for hard flooring.

Also available in a stacking version: please enquire for details.
