

Eames DCM chair

Charles & Ray Eames, 1945

Description

Eames DCM chair by Charles & Ray Eames for Vitra.

DCM stands for Dining Chair Metal. The Eames often varied their chair designs by combining one seat shell with different bases. Accordingly, from the very outset, Plywood Group was optionally available with a chromed tubular steel frame which lent the design a greater sense of lightness and created an exciting tension between its two contrasting materials.

Available with glides for carpet or hard floor.

Plywood shell in natural ash, black ash, or black-pigmented walnut.

Base chromed or powder-coated in basic dark.

Dimensions

51.5w x 56.5d x 40/73.5cmh
