

Adnet Rectangulaire mirror

Jacques Adnet, 1950

Description

Adnet Rectangulaire mirror by Jacques Adnet for Gubi.

Few designers have succeeded in making the mirror a design icon but Jacques Adnet is a notable exception. The elegant leather mirror that Adnet designed in 1950 today provides inspiration for designers all over the world.

Adnet's style was the very epitome of luxury, so his 1950s collaboration with the exclusive French fashion house Hermes was a very natural progression. In association with Hermes, Adnet developed a collection of discreet yet luxurious leather-covered furniture and interior accessories.

The Rectangulaire mirror has a naturally tanned, full-grain aniline, hand-stitched leather frame with oxidized brass rivets.

Available in black or tan leather and in three sizes.

Wall mounts included.
