

LC14 stool

Le Corbusier, 1952

Description

LC14 stool by Le Corbusier for Cassina.

Le Corbusier solid wood stool designed in 1952, with practical openings on the two main sides to make it easy to handle.

The unique dovetail joint on each corner is exclusive and highlights the workmanship of the solid wood and exalts its qualities.

Two versions available: tabouret Cabanon in solid chestnut (stained natural) and tabouret Maison du Bresil in solid oak (stained natural).

Dimensions

Tabouret Maison du Bresil 33w x 25d x 43cmh
