

Fortuny

Mariano Fortuny y Madrazo, 1985

Description

Fortuny floor lamp, designed by Mariano Fortuny for Pallucco.

Fortuny is considered a contemporary yet timeless icon even though it took its cue from experiments carried out in 1907 on a new indirect lighting system for the stage. A camera tripod inspired the base with its adjustable central leg; for the shade Fortuny decided to turn the typical shade of that time upside down and also make it tilt.

Lacquered epoxy powder-coated steel with textile shade. All lamps are equipped with dimmer assembled on the cable.
