

Pato 4 leg armchair

Welling / Ludvik, 2012

Description

Pato 4 leg stackable armchair by Welling / Ludvik for Fredericia.

Versatile shell chair in polypropelene with a range of steel frames and upholstery. Designed by Welling / Ludvik in 2012 as an highly advanced evolution of a modern furniture staple: the stackable plastic chair. A silky textured surface and bevelled edge adds a visual lightness and detailed craftsmanship to this industrial standard.

Pato meets Fredericia's 100 year-old tradition of maximum of crafted quality to industrial products. The pato shells have a carefully developed structure with a soft yet wear-and-tear resistant surface. Designers Welling / Ludvik have created a highly intelligent design where functional details add to a distinct expression and sublime usability.

Pato is produced in environmentally friendly polypropylene and steel and every part is 100% recyclable and renewable.

The Pato can be upholstered in the following range of fabrics selected by Fredericia:
