

Taccia table lamp

Achille Castiglioni, 1962

Description

Taccia table lamp by Achille and Pier Giacomo Castiglioni for Flos.

Taccia is a classic of Italian lighting design by Achille and Pier Giacomo Castiglioni. Designed in 1958, Taccia's signature dramatic diffuser was originally made of transparent plastic but in 1962 Flos produced a more heat-resistant version in blown glass.

The light may be used as a table or floor light, with the moveable diffuser set on a columnar base.

Diffuser in transparent mouth-blown glass, with reflector disk in painted aluminium, gloss white on the outside and matt white on the inside. Diffuser also available in acrylic for large size only.

Body available in matt black, silver anodized or bronze anodized aluminium. Base is nickel-plated metal.

Supplied with 2.2m cable with combined on/off and dimmer switch.

Available in small and large sizes.
