

Eames coffee table

Charles & Ray Eames, 1949

Description

Eames coffee table by Charles & Ray Eames for Vitra.

Designed by Charles and Ray Eames in 1949, the Eames coffee table originally served as a unique piece of furniture in their own residence, the legendary Eames House in Pacific Palisades, near Los Angeles.

The re-edition of the Eames Coffee Table evokes the spirit of the early one-off pieces. Made from high-quality materials, this dowel leg table combines a precious aesthetic with a utilitarian purpose.

The square or rectangular table tops are made of santos palisander veneer, Carrara marble or solid American walnut.

The base combines legs in black ash or honey-toned ash with metal cross-struts.
