

Concentric

Rob Zinn, 2016

Description

Concentric wall light by Rob Zinn for Marset.

Concentric was born from the designer noticing the sunlight coming through an airplane window and reflecting the vibrant colours of the passengers' clothes on the white walls.

The Concentric is made of overlapped lacquered white metal plates. The back of these plates is covered with vinyl in different colours highlighting and emphasising the interaction between light and the reflection of colour when the light is turned on.

Available in three different sizes and three different colour combinations: neon, cold or warm.
