

Overlap table

TAF Architects, 2017

Description

Overlap table by TAF Architects for Skagerak.

Launched in 2017, The Overlap family of outdoor furniture by TAF Architects has a simple and sturdy leg system formed from folded sheet steel and inspired by the intersection of a scissors' blades.

The rounded section of the steel legs softens the angular appearance of the table legs, which overlap at the top in order to support a tabletop made of solid, untreated Western Red Cedar wood.

The striking contrast between the powder-coated steel legs and rustic wooden plank table top ensures Overlap feels at once contemporary and solidly traditional. In addition, the untreated table top will weather with use and acquire a unique patina and character.

Suited to both indoor and outdoor use all year round, the Overlap table can be easily combined with a variety of chairs or stools. An Overlap bench and a round table are also available.

Available with Silver white or Hunter green powder-coated legs.
